

Workforce Partnership is committed to building a workforce development system that meets the needs of both job seekers and employers throughout the Kansas City area. We have a network of career centers in Johnson, Leavenworth, and Wyandotte counties offering professional expertise to employers and job seekers.

Employers need qualified workers to compete in an increasingly global economy. A qualified and skilled workforce is critical for the region to continue to attract and retain businesses that are a vital part of the Kansas City regional economy. Workforce Partnership connects local employers with qualified job candidates, as well as jobseekers with the training necessary to fill demand occupations in target industries. Workforce Partnership offers a wide range of employer solutions in the areas of: hiring and recruiting, training, retention and expansion to businesses of all sizes.

Workforce Partnership also offers career counseling, labor market information, resume and job search assistance, interview preparation, and other services developed to provide jobseekers the necessary tools to be successful.

Workforce Partnership, in collaboration with Johnson County Community College, provides education, certifications, and other workforce development opportunities at the Learning and Career Center located in the LPKC Business Park in Edgerton, KS. Services provided are designed to bridge the gap between industry needs and the training of current and future warehouse and distribution workers in the Kansas City region.

Workforce Center hours and locations can be found on workforcepartnership.com. For information on upcoming hiring events and workshops please view kansasworks.com.
